Major Offered At:

CORVALLIS

Oregon Coast Community College

Ecological Engineering

The Ecological Engineering (EcoE) program at OSU was the first-of-its-kind in the nation, and the discipline is rapidly developing as an important emerging area of engineering. Ecological Engineering blends engineering and scientific principles/problem-solving techniques to optimize the design of sustainable systems (natural, urban, and agricultural) that integrate human activities into the natural environment to the benefit of both.

EcoE graduates are highly employable and have found work in a variety of employment sectors, including:

- Engineering design & consulting firms
- Government agencies (federal, state, local)
- Natural resource management/ restoration firms
- Sustainable farms & vineyards
- Surveying & ecological modeling firms
- Water and wastewater treatment facilities

Your Bachelor's Degree (BS) in the College of Engineering

- A minimum of 180 credits are required for graduation; 60 must be upper division (300 and 400-level courses).
- A maximum of 135 credits earned at a community college may be applied toward a bachelor's degree at OSU.
- Some courses can count towards your major and the Baccalaureate Core. Advisors can assist in selection.
