Major Offered At:

CORVALLIS

Chemeketa
Community College

Bioengineering

Bioengineering is an interdisciplinary field that applies scientific and engineering principles to the development of new biologics, materials, devices, and processes in the broad areas of bioprocess, biomedical, and bioenvironmental technology. You will study heat and fluid flow and how they are coupled with biological reactions or phenomena.

With a Bioengineering degree you can work in pharmaceutical industry, medical device and diagnostics, food and beverage, commodities, petrochemical or paper products, etc.

Common employment industries include

- cosmetics,
- prosthetics,
- fermentation,
- cellular and tissue engineering.

Your Bachelor's Degree (BS) in the College of Engineering

- A minimum of 192 credits are required for graduation; 60 must be upper division (300 and 400-level courses).
- A maximum of 135 credits earned at a community college may be applied toward a bachelor's degree at OSU.
- Some courses can count towards your major and the Baccalaureate Core. Advisors can assist in selection.

Important Notes & Resources

Important Notes for the College of Engineering and Bioengineering Major:

- Grade requirements: Grade of C or better in all major coursework.
- See a sample degree plan by searching "Bioengineering" at admissions.oregonstate.edu/find-your-major
- Other similar majors to explore: Chemical Engineering, Environmental Engineering
- Bioengineering students the best time to transfer is Summer term, particularly due to the CBEE series courses. Talk with an OSU advisor about your specific timeline.
- CBEE 280 should be taken, after pre-requisites are met, the summer before starting upper division CBEE courses.
- CBEE 211/212 will now be offered E-Campus during winter and spring term to all allow for more flexibility.
